

SENDER CORNERED.

Negroes Fail to Come to Tennessee—Union Soldiers in Middle Tennessee Deny the Truth of Radical Declarations.

Nashville, March 21.—Governor Senter returned to Nashville today. He was accompanied by a large number of Union soldiers, who had taken sides with the supporters of Congressional intervention, were summoned before him in a hall to Washington. They stated that they had no personal knowledge of the alleged outrages upon colored men reported by them in a letter to Washington. They stated that they had no personal knowledge of the alleged outrages upon colored men reported by them in a letter to Washington. They stated that they had no personal knowledge of the alleged outrages upon colored men reported by them in a letter to Washington.

The story is a hoax that the School Land Investigating Committee have discovered that a key of gold belonging to the Bank of Tennessee is in a certain point and store would be taken to get it.

New York, March 21.—Mr. Childs, Bailey's chief deputy, was arrested Saturday night, but escaped on a boat. The belief is expressed by many that Bailey is still in New York, while others think he has fled to the South. Childs thinks the amount taken by Bailey will reach $100,000, the extent of his bonds. Many of the confidential clerks and others in the employ of Bailey are reported willing to make affidavits that he appropriated large sums to his own account.

The Commercial Advertiser says it has it from reliable authorities that Bailey's bondsmen approached a well-known distiller in this city with a proposition that he should furnish them with a quantity of whisky worth $100,000, and that they would raise the money by borrowing from the town, and the proposition was declined.

The particulars of a new fraud came to light this afternoon. An individual by the name of Evans, Wharton & Co., No. 5 Broad street, gave an order to sell $100,000 of Lake Shore Railroad stock, which they sold at $97 to $98. Hart stated that the stock was for account of D. R. Skilton, one of the most responsible operators on the street. To-day Evans, Wharton & Co. discovered that Skilton had not paid for the stock, and bought the stock at a loss of $2000. It is supposed that Hart was short of Lake Shore, and adopted this course to break the market and buy in his shorts.

The numerous stores to rent in Broadway and other desirable localities are evidence of the depression in general trade. Over one hundred houses are out of employment in the city. The reductions in prices of labor have been in all cases initiated by employers, and the inability to pay rising rates, and the employees of houses have a very easy time of it.

There are no new developments in regard to the late forgeries. Some bankers and brokers to-day instructed their clerks not to certify any checks under $1000.

Some of the banks, on their own account, are refusing to certify checks for small amounts.

Washington, March 21.—The Senate to-day confirmed Jas. B. Brady as collector of the port of New York, and General Pleasant as collector of the port of New York, and General Pleasant as collector of the port of New York, and General Pleasant as collector of the port of New York.

The President has nominated Robert F. Cameron as United States Marshal for the Eastern District of New York, and also made several other appointments.

Senator Barlow has returned from New York, and has no doubt that Bailey has left that city.

The Internal Revenue office is making every effort to ferret out the extent of the fraud.

Deputy Commissioner Douglas left to-day to take entire charge of the examination. Messrs. Douglas, Funnell and John Delano, of the New York office, and Supervisor Dwyer, of Ohio, are assisting the Commissioner. Senator Costello, who has been absent from his seat for several weeks, returned to-day with his health somewhat recovered.

The Supreme Court has decided adversely to the claimants of the Bailey estate. The Senate has confirmed George H. Butler as Consul-General at Alexandria, Egypt, the motion to reconsider being negatived.

Francis A. Walker, Inspector of the Customs, has issued a circular, announcing that the act of May, 1859, requires that all Merchants shall be actual contributors.

The Customhouse at Toledo, Texas, was robbed on the night of the 19th, but the government bonds, being kept at the Deputy Collector's house, since the robbery, the Government bonds remained safe.

The 2d. Military Committee of the House to-day considered the case of the Cherokee. The Indian Territory was seized by the federal revenue officers. Delano was a secretary of the House, and was a member of the Indian Territory. The House Committee on Indian Affairs has completed a bill to organize the Indian Territory, to provide for their colonization, and for other purposes. The bill divides the Indian Territory into districts and classes, viz: 1st, those on the reservations self-sustaining; 2d, those on the reservations not self-sustaining; 3d, those on the reservations not self-sustaining; 4th, those on the reservations not self-sustaining.

XIIth CONGRESS--2d SESSION.

Washington, March 21.—House. A large number of bills of general importance were introduced and appropriately disposed of, among which were the following:

Dividing Tennessee into two judicial districts; authorizing wage gauges to be established and observations made on the Mississippi and its tributaries, with a view to obtaining information for the protection of alluvial lands from overflow, and to improve navigation; authorizing terms of the United States District Court to be held at Helena, Ark.

Mr. Harwood offered a resolution declaring that the business interests of the Southern and Western States imperatively require a greater amount of currency to be issued in those States, and that a distribution of national bank currency by which the amount of the entire amount is issued to associations in States having an aggregate of less than one-half of the population of the Union is partial and unjust, and should be remedied by a redistribution or by allowing an increase of the existing bank circulation in the States and Territories having less than their due share, so that every part of the Union can receive its fair proportion. The House refused to second the previous question, and the resolution was not taken.

Mr. Chilton introduced a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency. Mr. Chilton introduced a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency. Mr. Chilton introduced a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency.

Mr. Williams offered a resolution declaring that the duty of Congress is at the lowest rate of interest, and to extend the time of its payment to the people, and that the interest-bearing debt should be increased by causing the surrender of any part of the circulating medium not bearing interest, and by the substitution of interest-bearing bonds.

Mr. Holman offered a resolution declaring that the duty of Congress is at the lowest rate of interest, and to extend the time of its payment to the people, and that the interest-bearing debt should be increased by causing the surrender of any part of the circulating medium not bearing interest, and by the substitution of interest-bearing bonds.

Mr. Stokes reported the bill for taking the ninth census, and moved the previous question.

Mr. Allison desired to amend it by adding sections of the act of appointment of members of the House.

Mr. Stokes declined to permit them to be offered, and the previous question was ordered, and the bill passed. It requires information to be obtained from insurance and railroad companies.

There are no new developments in regard to the late forgeries. Some bankers and brokers to-day instructed their clerks not to certify any checks under $1000.

Some of the banks, on their own account, are refusing to certify checks for small amounts.

Mr. Hamilton thought the matter ought to be disposed of at once. Mr. Hamilton was willing to accept of the committee of the court of proceeding with the bill, and after a conversation between Morton, Conkling and Carpenter the question went over till to-morrow.

Messrs. Howell and Terry opposed Mr. Drake's military assessment amendment, and Mr. Howard proposed a modification of it, so as to make military penalties responsible for any outrages.

The debate was continued until the adjournment.

WAR AGAIN DEVASTATES VIRGINIA.

Richmond, March 21.—An attack upon Major Ellison's police last night, proved to be more formidable than was first supposed. The negroes assaulted them with bricks, and at the same time opened fire and wounded several. Detective Knox was struck with a brick after he was wounded, and he supposed he shot and killed the negro who threw it.

From all sources of information, it is positively ascertained that three negroes were killed outright in the encounter, and several were wounded. In the early part of the night, when the police, when they commenced to light the gas lamps of the city, and from that time they were active in their demonstrations until the collision took place.

A visit to the scene of encounter, at midnight, found all still and quiet, and not a living soul could be seen, and lights had generally been extinguished in the residences.

There is a movement on foot to remove Ellison's police from the city, and the position of Postmaster of this city, and that the name of his successor will be sent into the Senate by the President, in a few days, for confirmation.

Affairs are quiet to-day. In last night's skirmish only one negro was injured. He was shot in the shoulder. Ellison has entire control of the city. Ellison has only a dozen men in the Third District stationhouse. There appears to be no further danger of a conflict, as the police have charge now.

This afternoon Gen. Scott, one of Mayor Cahoon's negro police force, was captured by Ellison's police. It was in front of his house that Bush, the special policeman, was killed last night, and an ex-policeman, who was charged with the killing, was taken to the City Hall, where Bush's body was lying, an excited crowd rushed to see the body, and the police, after a short fight, beat the crowd off and succeeded in lodging Scott safely in the City Hall.
